

You are invited to a unique opportunity to experience and participate in a dramatic reading of the 2016 play adaptation of the 1935 Sinclair Lewis book and play, It Can't Happen Here.

Tuesday, October 30, 2018

7 PM (doors open at 6:30 PM)

Sabes Jewish Community Center Theater
4330 S. Cedar Lake Road, Minneapolis, MN 55416

Don Shelby, a prominent broadcast journalist and regional actor, will read the leading role, and he will be accompanied by a stellar intergenerational cast of Twin Cities professional actors, with interactive audience involvement.

This dramatic reading is Produced and Directed by James Gambone.

General Admission Seating: $15 (students – $10)

(IMPORTANT – TO ALL ATTENDEES: Please bring some form of identification to both enter the building and pick up your ticket.)

Purchase tickets at: www.pointsofviewinc.com

Tickets are available online through October 26, 2018.

Tickets may also be purchased at the door but interest is high and we expect this one-time performance to sell out early.

This event is a GET OUT AND VOTE reminder! As Lewis would say, voting is perhaps one of our most important civic duties.

For more information, please contact jimg@pointsofviewinc.com

During the rise of fascism in Europe, Sinclair Lewis' darkly satirical It Can't Happen Here follows the ascent of a demagogue who becomes president of the United States by promising to return the country to greatness. Witnessing the new president's authoritarian tyranny from the sidelines, is a liberal, middle-class newspaper editor from Vermont who is caught in the chaos of social upheaval. Sound familiar? Called "a message to thinking Americans" upon its publication, this eerily prescient book receives a new adaptation just in time for the election season.

– from the Berkeley
Repertoire Theatre
Program, 2016